3. Main risks faced by the Group

The risk management policy of the Group is directed towards identifying and analysing the risks to which the Group is exposed in order to set limits of risk appetite. Based on the analysis of these risks, the Group develops and implements appropriate controls to address these risks. This policy, as well as the risk management controls introduced are subject to periodic reviews in order to reflect any changes in the external and internal conditions in which the subsidiaries operate.

Credit risk

Credit risk arises mainly from receivables from customers. The exposure to credit risk is the result of the individual characteristics of each individual client.

The Group manages credit risk primarily by placing credit limits on each client individually, depending on the sales volume and the client's credit history, as well as by exercising constant control over delayed payments.

Currency risk

Sometimes, the Group companies undertake transactions denominated in foreign currencies. The Group is exposed to currency risk relating to possible fluctuations in exchange rates of foreign currencies. Currently, such risk originates from fluctuations in the USD exchange rate upon trading in agricultural produce.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group companies will have difficulty in fulfilling their obligations related to financial liabilities. The liquidity management approach aims at ensuring, as far as possible, that there will always be sufficient liquidity to meet its obligations, both under normal and stressful conditions, and without incurring unacceptable losses or harming the reputation of the Group. For the purpose, the subsidiaries maintain credit lines and use short-term borrowings from banks.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that in case of changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates or prices of equity instruments, the companies' income or the value of their investments may be affected. The goods' prices are monitored by the Group's management. Sales are managed locally using competitive market prices. The main factors determining price changes are changes in competitors' prices as well as changes in the cost of products.

4. Key ratios analysis

In order to achieve greater efficiency and control over the Group companies' results, management monitors certain key performance indicators related to business activities. These indicators are mainly focused on the amount of profit, debt level and effectiveness.

- Gross Profit Margin (Gross profit from operations / Sales)

For the reporting period

Pre-tax profit	14 531
Income	64 402
